RECALL THE PAST

TO BETTER OUR FUTURE.

DOES THIS REPRESENT YOU?

SASQUATCH

Sasquatch is an obvious choice for us here at Recall The Past. He's cute, fuzzy and he doesn't have just one look! An adaptable, locally important cryptid-based mascot that will pique the interest of both students and non-students, Sasquatch is the perfect replacement mascot for the viking. Not only is he centered in local Indigenous lore, he is regionally and nationally recognized! New merchandise would appeal to all students - not just those of European descent.

ORCA WHALES

Our second choice for a mascot replacement is the Orca whale! They stand in class solidarity with the lower & middle class, and are fighting for the environment with their destruction of billion dollar yachts. Another locally-based mascot with important ties to local indigenous culture and history, this cute porpoise will surely steal your heart! Another pro of the orca whale taking over for the viking mascot is that they stay in the already-established color scheme. Finally, orca merch! From little orca plushies to adorable sweatshirts, the possibilities for cutness and creativity are endless!

BLACK-TAILED DEER

Our third but certainly not last choice for a new, funner mascot is the black-tailed deer! This one might be the most obviously "Bellingham" choice as the deer are an important, unforgettable fixture in our town. Adorable, unafraid and local, we think it would be genius to incorporate the deer into WWU's lore - especially because we wouldn't even need to pay for a new mascot - they can be found with little effort all over town and around campus!
